während des 2. Weltkrieges erleidet die Firma Georg Neumann & Co. in Berlin, Michaelkirchstraße, Brand- und Bombenschäden. Um künftigen Bombardements auszuweichen, wurde der gesamte Betrieb und der Firmensitz nach Gefell verlegt.

Die Familien Georg Neumann und Erich Kühnast sowie fast alle Angestellten siedeln nach Gefell und setzen den Geschäftsbetrieb in gemieteten Räumen eines früheren Textilbetriebes fort.

During World War II. the company Georg Neumann & Co. in Berlin, Michaelkirchstraße suffers damages by fire and bombs. In order to prevent future bombing, the entire operations and headquarters were relocated to Gefell.

The families of Georg Neumann and Erich Kühnast as well as almost all employees move to Gefell and continue business in rented premises of a former textile company.
